C3 Poster Design Competition now open

South Australia's Commissioner for Children and Young People Helen Connolly, today launched her C3 Poster Design Competition with a total of $500 in prize money up for grabs.

The competition is open to all South Australians aged 14 to 22 and is inspired by her Youthful Adelaide Report in which young people defined what they believe are the essential elements of a youthful city.

Their answer - a youthful city is one that is 'Connected, Creative and Confident' - and therefore the theme of the Commissioner's inaugural poster competition. The winning entry will need to reflect all three elements in one single poster design.

The winner will receive $350 and have their poster design featured on the front of the Commissioner's Get Around It Zine, full of young 'thinkers, makers and doers' who have been selected to be part of this year's Get Around It Showcase - an initiative of the CCYP published on Instagram and on the Get Around It Travelling Clothesline.

The Commissioner will judge the poster competition alongside renowned Adelaide artist Dave Court, up-and-coming designer Lucinda Penn, and art curator Laura Gentgall.

Best entries will be featured on CCYP's Facebook page to determine second and third place winners, who will be selected via a People's Choice Award with $100 in prize money for second place and $50 in prize money for third place.

Entries close Sunday 3 November, 2019 at 11:59pm (ASCT).

Quotes attributable to Commissioner Helen Connolly:

“Children and Young People told me that for Adelaide to be a youthful city it needs to be ‘connected, creative and confident’. I would like to see what this might look like in a poster design. I know that a young person will combine these three elements in ways that only they can, and I am really looking forward to seeing what they come up with. I’m sure we will see some truly inspiring designs that will work their magic to remind adults just how wonderful young people are!”
