Commissioner for Children and Young People 2017/18 Annual Report

Commissioner
for Children &
Young People

Hon John Gardner
Minister for Education
Member of the Executive Council

Dear Minister

I am pleased to submit the Commissioner for Children and Young People's 2017/18 Annual Report. This report - to be presented to Parliament - is to meet the statutory reporting requirements of the Children and Young People (Oversight and Advocacy Bodies) Act 2016 (OAB Act) and meets the requirements of Premier and Cabinet Circular PC013 Annual Reporting.

This report highlights the Commissioner's activities in fulfilling the statutory obligations in 2017/18 and contains information on human resources and financial matters.

The year has seen considerable progress in establishing staffing arrangements, operating systems and independent accommodation. Most importantly however, the Commission has established purposeful and practical ways of engaging with children and young people in our work through consultations, conversations and feedback mechanisms. This voice has driven the development of the Commissioner's Strategic Plan, which outlines the projects and activities to meet, promote, protect and uphold the rights, interests and wellbeing of South Australian children and young people.

This report is verified to be accurate for the purposes of annual reporting to the Parliament of South Australia.

Helen Connolly

Agency role

The Commissioner for Children and Young People (CCYP) is an independent statutory office. The Commissioner promotes and advocates for the rights, development and wellbeing of all children and young people in South Australia. The Commissioner is committed to advocating for children and young people's involvement in decision-making that affects them, giving particular consideration to children and young people whose ability to make their views known are limited.

Objectives

- Promote participation by children and young people in the making of decisions that affect their lives.
- Advise and make recommendations to Ministers, State authorities and other bodies (including non-Government bodies) on matters related to the rights, development and wellbeing of children and young people at a systemic level.
- Inquire into matters related to the rights, development and wellbeing of children and young people at a systemic level (whether a Governmental system or otherwise).
- Assist in ensuring that the State, as part of the Commonwealth, satisfies its international obligations in respect of children and young people.
- Undertake or commission research into topics related to children and young people.
- Prepare and publish reports on matters related to the rights, development and wellbeing of children and young people at a systemic level.
- Any other functions that may be conferred to the Commissioner by or under this or any other Act.

Key CCYP strategy	CCYP outcome	SA Government objective
Engage and empower young digital citizens.	Children, young people and their families are better equipped to understand the digital world, and feel empowered to access its benefits and manage its risks.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> · STEM Learning Strategy 2017-2020. There are three main operational strategies: (1) Building expertise in STEM teaching and learning across all levels of public education; (2) Engaging students at all year levels in STEM education; (3) Developing systemic excellence in STEM education. · STEM Skills Strategy to develop a workforce with strong skills in STEM by collaborating across all sectors, including schools, tertiary institutions, government, industry and the community. · Delivery Digital 2016-2020 Strategy: “The use of digital technologies to access information quickly, securely, anywhere at any time, will transform learning, care and protection for our children and young people.”

Key CCYP Strategy	CCYP outcome	SA Government objective
Strengthen children and young people's participation in society.	Children and young people have meaningful ways to participate and make a contribution across public, civic and community life.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> · The Better Together Principles of Engagement: Engaging with hard-to-reach groups, specifically children and young people. · The Children and Young People (Safety) Act 2017: Aiming to ensure that children and young people are active citizens who have a voice and influence (section 4(2)). · Youth Strategies (2017 and 2018): Getting young people to be connected and actively participating.

Programs and initiatives

Consultation	Purpose	Indicators of performance
Listening Tour: What matters to children and young people in South Australia.	The Commissioner undertook 94 consultations talking to 1419 children and young people all over the State to understand what was important to them and to find out what she should focus on and what her priorities should be for her tenure.	Developed “Front and Centre; an agenda for South Australian children and young people”, the Commissioner’s Strategic Plan 2018–2022 was released in March 2018. The Children and Young People (Safety) Act 2017: Aiming to ensure that children and young people are active citizens who have a voice and influence (section 4(2)).
Family Law Inquiry: Informing the Australian Law Reform Commission (ALRC).	The Commissioner undertook three consultation sessions with small groups of children and young people, both with and without experience, to talk about the family law system. Twenty children and young people aged between seven and 22 years participated in the consultations.	Developed “The Report on Children and Young People in the Family Law System” was released in August 2018.
Being healthy consultation series	The Commissioner undertook six consultation sessions meeting with 75 children and young people aged between three and 22 years, both in Adelaide and regional areas. These consultations were held with a diverse range of children and young people, including children with a serious medical condition, children in care, children of culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds (CALD) and children with learning difficulties. A final session was then undertaken with a school group to analyse what was learnt.	Ongoing: A report is being prepared to determine future advocacy.

Hopes and Dreams Regional Tour: Formulating new directions for children and young people in regional areas.	The Commissioner is visiting 10 regional communities in 2018 to ask children and young people about their hopes and dreams and what they need from their communities to help them to be realised. During the reporting period, the Commissioner visited five regions, the Riverland, Murray Bridge, Adelaide Hills, Yorke Peninsula and Ceduna.	Ongoing: A report will be produced that will document the barriers for regional children and young people and recommend solutions.
The Bullying Report: Understanding bullying from the perspective of children and young people.	The Commissioner undertook 23 consultations involving 283 children and young people in government, catholic and independent schools and Flexible Learning Option (FLO) programs. The Commissioner asked what bullying looks like in 2018, what they think causes someone to bully and what are some ways to prevent bullying.	Ongoing: A report to the Minister for Education was delivered on 29 October 2018.
Gender Diverse children and young people and the health system	The Commissioner met with groups of gender diverse young people and their parents to talk about the obstacles they encounter that other children and young people may not.	Ongoing: The next step is to advocate for improved accessibility and quality of health care, as well as better medical responses for children and young people who are gender diverse.
Young carers	The Commissioner hosted a number of conversations in partnership with Carers SA to understand the contributions of young carers.	Ongoing: Engagement with young carers to highlight their contributions.

Commissioner for Children and Young People projects

Project	Purpose	Indicators of performance
Democracy in Action (DiA)	This project was designed by the Commissioner in partnership with the Centre of Democracy and Electoral Commission SA and launched by the Commissioner. DiA was a civics engagement project giving young people the practical skills in enrolling and completing a ballot paper by participating in a mock election.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Ongoing: 356 young people from three secondary schools and UN Youth SA participated. The project coincided with the South Australian State election that was held in March 2018. • CCYP has now started a DiA group for previous and current young candidates in local, state or federal elections to discuss the challenges, what works and what it is like to be young candidate.
Battle of the Bands	The Commissioner has partnered with Goyder Youth Advisory Committee to support them in running a 'Battle of the Bands' that promotes and recognises the talent of young people in Burra.	Ongoing: Creation of regional networks to engage and empower young people living in regional South Australia.
State of Encouragement	The Commissioner commenced a project to understand children and young people's aspirations and opportunities in South Australia.	Ongoing: The Commissioner will embark on conversations with young people to find out how Adelaide can be more inclusive for young people.

Project	Purpose	Indicators of performance
The Commissioner's Digital Challenge	The Commissioner has developed a new digital challenge for children in South Australia. The Challenge consists of four free, step-by-step Challenge activities. Children can take part at registered schools (Year 3-6) or at home with family or in the community (all ages). There will be extended free learning material and children can take part to help their schools and libraries win digital rewards.	Ongoing: The Challenge opens on 29 January 2019. The aim for the first year is to increase the uptake of digital thinking skills of children and young people across South Australia through community, schools and family.
Project NOW (New Opportunities Workplace)	A joint venture between CCYP and the (South Australian) Governor's Leadership Foundation (GLF) and its Community Action Project (CAP). Seven business leaders worked with CCYP to plan and then convene a consultation with young people about young people's perceptions of work places.	Ongoing: The GLF leaders will incorporate feedback from young people into organisational planning back in their respective work places.

Anangu Pitjantjatjara Yankunytjatjara (APY) Lands visit

In August 2017, the Commissioner had the pleasure of meeting with children and young people at schools in the APY Lands to see first-hand what the children were learning and doing to be strong in two worlds. The Commissioner accompanied the Minister for Education and Child Development, Susan Close MP and senior staff.

- Kenmore Park Anangu School
- Fregon Anangu School
- Mimili Anangu School
- Indulkana Anangu School
- Umawa Fund My Ideas Workshop and Pitjantjatjara/Yankunytjatjara Education Committee (PYEC) Meeting

The Commissioner saw:

- Art and dance bringing school and community together as safe cultural practices to build relationships between school and community.
- How children and young people engaged with technology and how energetic the learning environment became when they engaged in this technology.
- How schools and their infrastructure are more than places of education, but safe and inviting hubs.

Other activities

Visit of His Royal Highness, Prince Edward the Earl of Wessex

In April, the Commissioner chaired a meeting between His Royal Highness, Prince Edward the Earl of Wessex, State Ministers and the legal community to talk about the youth justice system in South Australia and how current leaders can work together to provide better outcomes. The Prince was advocating for South Australia to roll out the Duke of Edinburgh award in its youth justice system. He talked about the success the program has had in the youth justice system in other jurisdictions, empowering children and young people in other countries, enabling them to develop life skills and to better integrate into the community after their sentence.

Australian Children's Commissioners and Guardians (ACCG)

The Commissioner is a member of the ACCG. The ACCG is comprised of national, state and territory children and young people commissioners, guardians and advocates. It meets twice a year in May and November with the aim to strengthen the quality and effectiveness of strategic advocacy to promote and protect the safety, wellbeing and rights of children and young people in Australia. Its current priorities are:

- Achieving better outcomes for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander children and young people.
- Promoting children and young people's engagement and participation.
- Upholding the rights of children and young people in youth justice detention.
- Improving the safety of children and young people in organisations.
- Ending violence against children and young people.
- Promoting children and young people's safety and wellbeing.

Digital engagement

The Commissioner launched social media platforms in August 2017, after engaging with young people and researching platforms that young people use, to reach them where they are. The Commissioner will continue to use social media platforms as an engagement tool and ensure young people inform the Commissioner's digital footprint.

Surveys

Throughout 2017-2018, the Commissioner has been asking children and young people questions to inform CCYP's work. Two polls were undertaken during the year:

Polling at libraries

CCYP went to 15 libraries around Adelaide and asked the following questions:

- What social media do you use? (339 responses)
- What's the best thing at school? (341 responses)
- What do you spend your time doing? (331 responses)
- What are your hopes for the future? (328 responses)
- Who are your heroes? (330 responses)

Polling at Feast Festival's Picnic in the Park.

The Commissioner had a stall at Feast Festival and asked children and young people three questions:

- What do you use your mobile phone for? (50 responses)
- Where did you get your news from? (49 responses)
- Have you lodged a formal complaint? (39 responses)
If so where? (15 responses)

Legislation administered by the agency

Not applicable. The Commissioner is established under the OAB Act and does not administer any legislation. The OAB Act commenced in two parts:

- The OAB Act 2016 came into operation on 10 November 2016, except for the operational sections.
- The operational sections of the Act commenced on 18 December 2017.
- The Commissioner sought amendments to the Public Sector Variations 2010, through a Cabinet Submission, to allow her to exercise her power under the OAB Act to employ people under a 'direct employment model'. The Variation Regulations, titled: Public Sector (Commissioner for Children and Young People) Variation Regulations 2017, came into effect on 30 April 2018.
